Barbara,
It was really sucked in January,
but you made it fun anyway.
You're my party planner. Visit maybe next year we can be friends, but it'll be a big surprise!
Have fun over the summer.

Love,
Ethel K.

Barbara,
I had fun this year having you in my class. It was fun going out with you + Tony + Jon to the movies. We could crack some good jokes.
I'll try + think some more jokes over the summer! Have a good summer. Take care.

Love,

Barbara,
You are right, it has been a pretty good year. I am, hit. Have a good summer & keep Rosalie in line also Thankyou for letting Ashley copy your papers. So I could copy off of him.
Brad Chadlick

BARBARA,
Really glad we got to know each other this year. I hope we can have as many classes together next year.
You had better come by the pool this summer. Stay the same, always
Love
Jim

Hope we have as much fun
as we did during Room.

Barb, god, you have got to be my best friend, we have been thru so much together remember all the games mostly football you and I only went to one basketball game, but remember cheering John Nelson, you feel in love, but remember all the times I called you crying cause Brian did or said something rude or mean, and you were always there for me, I'll never forget the night I called you from Charlas to come and get me, and you came right over and you talked to Charla and Brian, you even took me over there to talk to him so we could work everything out and we did, too bad we still have problems with each other, but I did take your advice and forget him, but he hasn't forgotten about me. but that is to bad, I love you for always being there for me, those were really hard times for me, I'm glad I'm thru them and thats all because of you. Lets try to forget those times. remember all the times we went out god did I have fun, and Michelle liking Duane and listening to her talk about him all the time. remember driving with me and you being scared to death, remember at the begging of the year, before Carrie got her car how everybody used to pile into my little car those were the days when everyone squeezed into my car.

remember the basketball ball we went to at Valley when we played western in tone tournament and we lost but remember how rowdy we were, and going to the party's afterwards, and all the assemblies, and me and Holly pushing everybody down everybody else fell. even trough the assemblies themselves were a bit boring but we made them fun. remember going to top of Sahara and all the times I had to hold on to you so I wouldn't fall. Barb- we really have had some good times-telling each other our deepest secretes and talking about you know what! and why guys are such fools! Bob Meyerson Ha Ha Ha I hope we can continue sharing our thoights and secretes. for a long time to come, I'm really flattered that you consider me as one of your bestfriends, cause you're mine. thanks again for being there for me when I had my troubles with Brian you really made me feel alot better about everything. let's stay close all thru the summer and next year let's do more together too ok. I'll love you always Barbie, your like the sister I never had and thanks!

my love and friendship always

Barbara,
I know you didn't have a really great time at my party; but I appreciated you coming. I'm sorry you didn't have the best time. In fact I think you were bored. I'm really sorry. Maybe next year party will be better and it won't be that expensive! I just want to say "thanks" for everything you did for me. Sorry it was fun with you in it. Maybe next year will see you in some of my classes. Good luck in anything you do.

Angelo Collis honored in dedication ceremony

One thousand balloons were released into the air as Collis Stadium was officially opened September 21 before the Clark-Basic game. The brand new stadium was dedicated in honor of Angelo Collis, longtime administrator and employee of the Clark County School District. During pregame festivities, members of the Charger student body and faculty and local dignitaries participated in the ribbon-cutting ceremony and presented Mr. Collis with various awards. Among the awards, Principal Carroll Johnston presented a plaque from students and faculty; Pam Durkee, head cheerleader, presented a plaque from the songleaders and cheerleaders; and state senator Don Ashworth presented a blanket listing all the championship teams that Mr. Collis had coached at Las Vegas High School.

Clark students proudly displayed their bow ties, a Collis trademark, both at the game, and at the Collis assembly earlier that day. The assembly got Charger spirit flowing and the football team went on to defeat Basic 20-0, as a fitting opening of the new field.

Balloons and bow ties highlight the stadium opening. 2. Principal Carroll Johnston presents Mr. Collis with an appreciation plaque. 3. Cutting the ribbon, Mr. Collis officially opens the adium which bears his name.

Eventful Homecoming encourages creativity among faculty, students

"Ain't No Stopping Us Now" was the 1979-1980 Homecoming theme. The week's festivities included a variety of dress-up days ranging from the traditional Black and Gold Day to Cowboy and Indian Day and Warm-Up Day. Besides the traditional hall decorating and bulletin board competitions, there were root beer guzzling, banana eating, hula dancing, and pie eating contests. A faculty team emerged victors at the Volkswagen Races. The Letterman's Jail was in operation on Wednesday.

The spirit present during the week's activities was evident at the Homecoming assembly on Friday. The winners of Mr. Football, Tony Shaw, and the Spanish Club's Ugly Man, John Clinton, were announced at the assembly.

At the pre-game show, held in Collis Stadium, the Senior Class entry won the float competition, and Pam Durkee received the crown as Homecoming Queen.

The Charger football team made a good showing but was disappointed with a 13-9 loss to the Valley Vikings.

As a conclusion to the 1979-1980 Homecoming festivities, many couples attended the dance Saturday evening at the Flamingo Hilton Hotel.

This is Fremont Street on a Saturday night?

Cruising Fremont has been a popular pastime for teenagers
in the Las Vegas area
since the late 1940's,
but for seven weeks
the tradition lapsed . . .
September 7 was the last Friday night
that glittering Fremont
was open to cars . . .
The following weekend,
police barricades blocked the famous
well-traveled roadway
from Las Vegas Boulevard
to Main Street,
Friday and Saturday nights between the hours of 6 p.m. and 2 a.m.
City Commissioners listed tourism as their concern in closing
the dice-studded avenue, but many teenagers believed their cruising Fremont
was the main reason . . .
The plan,
on a trial basis,
proved unsuccessful.
In late November
commissioners reopened
the area.

'The Curious Savage' presented in the round; cast adapts skillfully

The Curious Savage started off the 1979-80 drama season as a success. With the theater being remodeled, the play was performed in the round, and seating provided four audiences with equal views of the happenings on stage.

As the story unfolds, the guests of The Cloisters, a mental home, are discussing a new patient, Mrs. Savage, that will be joining them from the insane outside world. Mrs. Savage's family is trying to persuade her to tell them where she has hidden the bonds for all of the family property. While her children think her strange behavior is a sign of insanity, they do not realize her only true friends, who value her for herself and not her money, are those Mrs. Savage found at The Cloisters.

Skillfully directed by Ms. Carrol Statom, the production was well received by the audiences the three nights it was performed in November.

Couples enjoy reversal during Sadie Hawkins

Presenting girls and guys an opportunity to reverse traditional roles, the Senior Class sponsored the annual Sadie Hawkins Dance in November. The occasion celebrates the mythical event created by the late Al Capp in his Li'l Abner comic strip in which the women of Dogpatch pursue men with matrimony as the goal.

The dance was held in Clark's cafeteria, which was decorated with hay bales and saddles. Mr. Ken Kucan, taking the role of Marryin' Sam, "married" the couples in the old-fashioned atmosphere of the country.

The dress for the evening included old jeans, overalls, flannel shirts, and straw hats. Music was provided by Vegas International Sound Company.

Varsity Club initiation, powder puff football, provide thrills, spills

During the final week of November, boys and girls running around in diapers, bikini bathing suits, and other unusual attire could be seen throughout the halls at Clark High School. This was all part of the Varsity Club's traditional initiation. Besides the ridiculous costumes, there were a number of humiliating activities that the initiates took part in during their lunch periods. Among these were penny-pushing races, sing-a-longs, and strength tests in which the reluctant participants did jumping jacks and push-ups.

In the week prior to these events, senior girls played powder puff football as the initiates cheered them on. Time ran out with the ball on the Radical one-yard line, and the final score was Rick's Radicals 6, Butler's Babes 0.

Holiday Season brings happiness and cheer to young and old alike

December brought the celebrations of Hannukkah and Christmas as Clark students staged many fanciful events.

Beginning the season was the annual Christmas Tree Lane sponsored by the Drill Team. Trees were adorned with homemade ornaments representing each club's theme. The trees were judged and the Honor Society tree took overall prize.

Dress-up days and contests held throughout the week added excitement and increased participation from Clark students.

Willing seniors spent a day with children from Child Haven, providing an extra warmth for the children's Christmas and demonstrating the sharing aspects of the season.

The assembly, which two local television stations filmed, ended the week. Children from the Albert Einstein Hebrew Day School lighted a menorah and sang traditional Hebrew blessings. Clark's very own Santa Claus passed out candy to the young guests and the crowd.

Drama students stage creative interpretation of interview situation

The winter dramatic offering this year found a new setting other than the familiar Little Theatre of Clark High School. The Las Vegas Review Journal sponsored a showcase of high school drama at Reed Whipple Cultural Arts Center, in which five drama departments presented one-act plays of their choice.

Clark's entry, "Interview," was an example of theater of the absurd, in which actors appeared in traditional mime makeup. Dealing with a typical job interview, the smiling interviewers ask routine questions of applicants and progressively tried to destroy their dignity. The majority of the eight performers were chosen out of the advanced drama class. The director, Ms. Carrol Statom, explained her choice of the play: "This form of theater leaves room for different types of interpretation. The actors changed character so there was not one straight idea." In March, the drama students took "Interview" to the Clark County Drama Tournament.

Dating roles altered as February brings Girls' Reverse dance

In February, girls had the opportunity to invite their favorite guys for an evening out. The guys were able to relax without worrying about picking up the tab at the fourth annual Girls' Reverse Dance, sponsored by the Spanish Club. This reversal of dating roles provided a a unique and interesting atmosphere.

Many couples danced to the music provided by Dynamic Sound Company. The special occasion was held in the Chablis Room of the Flamingo Hiton Hotel.

Daring players find rough, uncertain seats on stubborn donkeys

Once again, Varsity Club sponsored the annual Donkey Basketball game held in Clark's gym in February.

The first game was played between two teams from the Varsity Club. The following match was between the faculty and Executive Council. The winning groups from these two games had a play-off, and Executive Council took the overall win in overtime with an 8-6 score.

As players mounted their steeds for the first time, they realized the rough ride which was in store for them. During the game, the donkeys displayed their obstinance and sent the players home with sore muscles.

Black students show respect for heritage during history week

Remembering their heritage and the people who have contributed to their past, students took part in the annual Black History Week February 11-15.

Various activities added to the week as Clark students observed Afro Heritage Day, Afro Colors Day, and Cultural Day. Posters displayed in a main hallway illustrated major figures in American history. February 13 was the date for the annual fashion show and dinner, featuring students modeling contemporary apparel furnished by local clothing shops.

The assembly on Friday tied the week together with performances portraying great moments in Black History. Tributes to Martin Luther King and Coretta Scott King were special features of the program. In addition, several CHS students displayed their talents in song and dance numbers. A highlight of the assembly was the coronation of Tony Thomas and Allison Kirkland as Afro King and Queen.

The costs of school: just how much money did you really spend?

During high school years the expense of participating in various activities, some required and others not, adds up to considerable money. Only a few activities are compulsory. One of these is physical education, which is required for graduation. If the gym clothes are purchased from the school, the price ranges from $4.75 to $8. If a student takes home economics, shop, or an art class, he must pay for materials with fees varying according to the projects.

Optional expenses include admission prices to athletic and theatrical events, pictures, yearbooks, graduation announcements, cap and gown costs and school jewelry. Because of the increased price of precious metals, the price of school jewelry skyrocketed.

Being a member of a performing group can increase the expense of the high school years as well. These costs include a uniform deposit fee, some of which may be refunded at the end of the year. Uniform cleaning fees can cost as much as $50. The price of shoes and socks and any other equipment also increases the expense. It is expensive to be a member of a performing group, especially for a number of years, but most feel the cost is outweighed by the personal satisfaction of performing.

How much did you pay for these things?

Seniors earn honors; foreign students enjoy time spent in America

During the 1979-80 school year, many Clark High School seniors won local and state awards. Seniors Mike Potter and John Sanford were chosen as semi-finalists in the competition for National Merit scholarships. To qualify for this honor, both students were ranked in the top one per cent of the seniors who took the PSAT/NMSQT and received a recommendation from Principal Carroll Johnston. In addition, they displayed superior academic ability throughout the year. Seniors David Clark, Robert Shearing, Teresa Coffman, and Melanie Gover also scored well on the test and were commended for their efforts.

In December, many Clark High School students attended the Sun Youth Forum at the Las Vegas Convention Center. At the forum, the students discussed issues from local to international in scope. After the discussions, seniors Mike Potter and Jim Thompson were chosen as finalists by their peers. As finalists, they made television reports on their findings.

CHS senior Ellen Frank won the city-level competition for the Soroptimists' Youth Citizen Award and competed for the regional title. As part of the competition, each contestant wrote three essays detailing his/her citizenship in the family, community, and world. The winners in the regional competition qualified for the national contest, and $500-$2500 in scholarships.

During the year, Clark also hosted three exchange students: Christine Nicolaides from Brazil, Maria Lehto, Finland; and Andres Vasquez from Columbia. Before being selected for participation in the program, each student underwent a series of interviews in which he was throughly evaluated. After being selected, the students were flown to America and introduced to the families they would be staying with during their visit in the Las Vegas area.

Academic superiority, recall lift Varsity Quiz into play-off contention

The 1979-80 Varsity Quiz team consisted of 18 members. Although Coach John Harrington named John Sanford, Mike Potter, Tracy Coffman, and Paul Fallon as starters, all members of the team needed quick recall and in-depth knowledge of all areas of study to play the game successfully. To develop these skills, the team practiced two hours a week in preparation for their games, some of which were televised.

Varsity Quiz is a game in which competitors respond to questions asked by a host by pressing a button when they have an answer. The object of the game is to press the button quickly while still answering correctly a high percentage of the time. Each question is worth five points to the team that answers correctly. Also, there are team questions in which a five-part question is asked, and the team is allowed to confer on the answers. Each part of the team question is worth two points.

Seniors learn politics, judicial system at state

During the summer of 1979, 11 Clark High School seniors were given the honor of representing their school at Boys' and Girls' State. Attending Boys' State were Mike Potter, David Clark, Kevin Jobst, Kurt Gabriel, Chris Yach, Jon Bradley, Tom Drago, and Randy Paul. Girls' State representatives were Linda Olson, Karen Wright, and Ellen Frank.

Before being chosen to attend state, each prospective delegate filled out an application listing his extracurricular activities, positions of leadership, and interests. Each application was then reviewed by Clark's scholarship committee.

At state, the delegates were involved in team competition, group discussions, and various seminars. Although their stay at state was time structured, the representatives were given a chance to meet other delegates from Nevada and compete for the opportunity to be selected as one of Nevada's representatives to Boys' and Girls' Nation in Washington D.C.

Arts staff expresses creativity in magazine

The 1979-80 arts magazine, Reflections, provided many Clark High School students with an outlet for their creative abilities.

Made up of students from creative writing classes, the magazine staff consisted of 22 members who wrote short stories and poetry, in addition to doing artwork. Other students also contributed to the magazine with the regular staff deciding which works would be published.

Honor Society builds academic development

Clark High School's 1979-80 National Honor Society consisted of 52 members.

The group was highly involved in the community, and among their many activities were entertaining senior citizens, providing food baskets for needy families, and organizing blood drives.

To become a member of National Honor Society, the interested student filled out an application which was reviewed by the Executive Board and the officers of the honor society. To be considered, the applicant had to show academic excellence (a 3.5 GPA is required), and display acceptable citizenship.

Being a member of the National Honor Society provided an outlet for positive community involvement and opened many scholarship opportunities.

Editors interpret life in '79-80 school year with record of events

The leadership of Clark publications rested in the hands of three students who oversaw every aspect of production.

Believing that elements of childhood remain in people of all ages, Karen Wright chose that universal experience as the theme of the 1980 CAVALCADE and incorporated the idea throughout the book. It is significant that 1979, which was the first half of the school year, was the United Nations Year of the Child. A senior, Karen had served as copy editor of the 1979 yearbook and had also developed leadership skills in numerous student government positions, including Junior Class president and student body vice president.

Senior Carolyn Gerst served the school in her second year as co-editor of the CHARGER, bringing both experience and writing ability to the job. Junior Valerie Talley joined her in the top position after two years of previous journalism experience. Together they provided editorial leadership, exploring topics like the teacher transfer policy, inequities in attendance/grade relationships, and the closing of Essex Circle Park.

All three were complimentary of their student staffs, realizing that a publication's quality depends on total teamwork. However, they were the individuals who coordinated the efforts into unified end products.

Cavalcade staff uses new ideas, techniques to produce yearbook

The 1979-1980 Cavalcade staff consisted of a variety of people, each donating their ideas to produce the complete yearbook. All of the members functioned as a class, but also did outside work. The students were divided into groups and assigned a section of the book. Each section was responsible for completing its pages to meet the three major deadlines in December, February, and March. Staff members were responsible for designing every page, writing all of the copy, and selling the necessary advertisements to support the book financially.

The Cavalcade staff also included seven photographers who took almost all of the action pictures and, except for the portraits, printed every black and white picture used in the book.

This year's editor was Karen Wright, and the advisor was Mrs. Judi Hale.

Clark CHARGER staff gains journalistic skills, produces newspaper

The 20 member CHARGER Staff worked steadily to produce the school newspaper this year. With Carolyn Gerst and Valerie Talley as co-editors and Mrs. Judi Hale as advisor, the staff worked together to meet all major deadlines which usually occurred every three weeks.

Staff members wrote news, features, editorials, and sports in addition to working with layouts and proof corrections. They also sold advertisements which helped to pay for the production of the paper.

CHS Executive Council advises, plans activities for numerous groups

Student involvement was the goal of the Executive Council. Under the leadership of student body president Lance Malone and the advisor, Mrs. Jo Peterson, the group represented the student body of Clark.

Members, who were elected the previous spring, raised money by selling carnations and various other items throughout the year. The dedication ceremony for Collis Stadium, before the first home game, was just one of the many activities planned by the group. Members were also responsible for the Clark campaign for the Great American Smokeout, and the organization of Christmas and Homecoming weeks.

Governmental groups offer added support for activities program

Representatives from each of the classes were elected to make up the Student Senate at the beginning of the school year. The main purpose of this group was to provide greater organizational strength for student activities at Clark. The Senate, which was advised by Mrs. Jo Peterson, helped the Executive Council prepare for Homecoming Week and other activities throughout the year.

Homecoming committee was responsible for organizing the days of Homecoming Week as well as putting together the Homecoming dance and coronation ceremony. The election committee was in charge of all student elections which were held throughout the year.

Varsity Club holds annual lettermen's jail, initiates new members

"The reason for Varsity Club is to bring all sports together without any competition among them. The club also serves as a way of recognition for many members as well," explained James McLin, president of the group.

Each of the club's 35 members, six of whom were girls, met the club's requirements to be accepted as a member. The requirements were lettering in a varsity sport, being initiated by a Varsity Club member, and being interviewed by the club.

With Coach Chuck Stuart as advisor, the club held many fund raisers throughout the year, including the annual lettermen's jail which was held during Homecoming Week. They held a drawing for show tickets that week as well. They also sponsored the powder puff football game where club members acted as coaches.

Varsity cheerleaders demonstrate enthusiasm while promoting spirit

The 1979-80 varsity cheerleaders, led by head cheerleader Pam Durkee, worked hard to promote school spirit: painting signs, leading cheers, planning assemblies, and performing at games.

The squad, chosen in the spring of 1979, attended camp in LaJolla, California, where they made a successful showing. They received numerous awards such as a spirit stick and a super star squad ribbon. They also received the spirit megaphone, which entitled them to having their picture in the National Cheerleading Association Magazine. The squad's advisor was Mrs. Brendia Crosby.

Eight girls actively participated on the junior varsity cheerleading squad for the 1979-80 school year. The girls worked with a rotating system of leadership throughout the year. For football season, Renae Barraza, who attended Cashman Junior High and has been cheering for three years, acted as head. During basketball season, the head was Michelle McDonald, a two-year veteran of cheerleading from Hyde Park.

The squad, which was advised by Mrs. Brendia Crosby, not only supported the class of 1982 but also assisted the varsity cheerleading squad at games and assemblies.

The girls agreed that they enjoyed cheering for several reasons, and the most important reason was stated by Angela Whipple: "Cheering gives us an opportunity to give something extra to Clark as well as a way to get something out!"

CHS mascots entertain enthusiastic audiences with dynamic tumbles

Clark High had four mascots for the 1979-80 school year. Marlene Philip and Patty Swartz were on the varsity squad, while Sherrie Philip and Tina Varley were on the junior varsity squad. Both squads were advised by Mrs. Brendia Crosby.

Each of the girls competed in gymnastics tournaments; Patty and Marlene competed in Class II, Sherrie and Tina in Class III.

According to Patty Swartz the girls enjoyed being mascots because "It is something entirely different from all of the other groups in the school."

Like most of the other performing groups, the mascots held fund raisers such as button sales and carwashes in order to raise money for uniforms and trips.

Songleading nine nab top slot in competition at camp in California

Nine girls, who were picked in the previous spring by a panel of judges, comprised the songleaders for 1979-1980. Tonya Williams, head songleader, led the squad in many different routines to help promote school spirit and to entertain the crowds. They spread their enthusiasm around during assemblies and games.

The songleaders attended camp in Santa Barbara, California. For their original moves, they won first place in routines, received a superior overall award, and even picked up the spirit stick. To raise money, the songleaders sold football schedules, and during Homecoming they sold footballs full of bubble gum. Mrs. Marilyn Pyles advised the group.

Million Dollar Band provides entertainment for CHS audiences

As the football team exited, the announcer introduced Clark High School's Million Dollar Band. At the sound of the whistle, the 64 musicians marched onto the field. Under the direction of William F. McMosley, the marching band provided half-time entertainment during all home games. In preparation for their shows, the band held summer practices two weeks prior to the start of school and continued their additional practices during the football season.

Maintaining their reputation for being the "dancing band", the group executed dance routines to popular music throughout the season. In October, the band performed at the annual Half-Time Show Review which was held at the Las Vegas Silver Bowl.

An addition to the band was the purchase of their new concert uniforms, tuxedos and long dresses in bright yellow. Money for the uniforms was earned through fund raisers such as bake sales.

The concert band competed at the annual Clark County Music Festival. The jazz bands competed at the district level and also attended the Reno International Jazz Festival.

The Cavalaires came to school at 7 a.m. every day during the year in order to achieve their goal, which, according to captain Linda Olson, was "to perform perfected routines that the audience enjoys." In December, the girls hosted their traditional Christmas Tree Lane, and in February they participated in the Miss Drill Team U.S.A. Pageant.

Exclusive Rifle Squad establishes standard for rest of Las Vegas

The Clark High Rifle Squad was the only high school performing rifle team in Las Vegas. Although the 1979-80 school year was the first that CHS has recognized the rifles as a chartered performing group, Janet Laduke, who was the captain of the team, was a three-year veteran of rifle twirling and could be considered as one of the founders of the squad.

The girls arrived at school each morning during football season at seven o'clock in order to practice the halftime show with the band.

Clark's first disco dance of the year was hosted by the rifle squad; this marked the beginning of their fund raisers which also included a spin-a-thon, a button sale, and car washes.

The Charger Brigade, led by Laurie Kallam, performed their tall flag routines for the school. During football season the members struggled to make 7 a.m. practices to perfect their flag-handling skills while marching with the band. This year's advisor was Ms. Donna Kuhle.

During the summer the Charger Brigade held fund-raising events including car washes and a garage sale. These funds helped to send eight of the members to camp at Santa Barbara, California, where they received a fourth place in competition and accumulated a number of individual ribbons.

Newly formed T-FAC provides special help for community groups

"Together for a change" is the theme which forms the acronym for the newly formed T-FAC, a group designed to promote brotherhood in the school. Serving as a community service group, the 50 members helped organizations by making food baskets and collecting money for charitable causes. They held various fund raising activities throughout the year such as the first after-game dance, bake sales, and car washes. Tony Thomas served as president and Mr. Roy Ware, Mrs. Priscilla Adams, and Mr. Doug Garner were advisors.

A special performing group, the spirit girls entertained the students and faculty by performing various dance routines to soul music. The nine-member group, which was headed by Josetti Blackshear, was chosen early in the spring of 1979.

Choir groups express themselves musically, display singing talents

The Girls' Glee for 1979-1980 was made up of eleven girls who displayed their singing talents throughout the year by performing in many concerts and a spring show. The girls also participated in a festival featuring solo and ensemble routines.

The Concert Choir also performed in concerts as well as a festival. During the Christmas assembly they changed their usual performance to a more comical one with such things as their own version of "Rudolph." The choir held their own workshop here at Clark and brought in Dr. Hall from Chapman College in California. This year they were reviewed by a committee for a pilot program of the arts. Being featured on the premier show of the Clark County Showcase was a special event for the choir. They also appeared on television in a show called Christmas Choirs, which aired three times on Channel 5. Mrs. Marcia Neel completed her first year at Clark as director.

Advanced level choirs show variety in music

The Madrigals and Counterpoint are two very diversified groups. The Madrigals, with their colorful costumes, sing in the style of the Reniassance age while Counterpoint, with their glittering outfits, sing rock or disco type songs. Both groups were instructed by Mrs. Marcia Neel.

The Madrigals, who also appeared on television, raised over $1000 during the Christmas season. Displaying their talents at many hotels throughout Las Vegas, the Madrigals presented performances for convention audiences.

A highlight for them this year was going to a professional recording studio and making a tape with Sandler and Young to be sent to the hostages in Iran. The tape was hand carried by Mrs. Neel's husband to the Iranian Embassy for approval. The Madrigals received recognition from Governor Robert List, Senator Howard Cannon, and Vice President Walter Mondale. A copy of the tape was also sent to President Jimmy Carter for review.

Counterpoint, along with all the other choral groups, had many performances including those put on during the assemblies at various junior high schools throughout the city. They also went on tour in the spring. This year a professional choreographer taught Counterpoint new dance steps.

Soccer Bunnies gain time for game play, supply refreshments

Both the JV and varsity Soccer Bunnies assumed many responsibilities throughout soccer season. The first of these included keeping the game balls for the coaches, as well as recovering those that have traveled out of bounds. Since the clock in soccer never stops, even if the ball is not in bounds, these were perhaps two of the most important jobs that the girls were assigned. Other tasks the girls were in charge of were supplying the players with oranges and gum while chanting familiar cheers for them.

This year the squad's fund raiser consisted of a candy sale. The money from this was used to buy oranges and gum for the soccer players.

The squad was advised by Mrs. Karen Girard and Mrs. Susan Stuart. The president of the group was Marianna Pataki.

Dragonslayers create imaginative characters for role-playing game

A group of Clark students met weekly to create a fantasy role for themselves in the game Dungeons and Dragons.

The only equipment necessary to play is sets of oddly shaped dice and rulebooks which contain numbers and tables. Each member portrays a character who travels through an imaginary dungeon encountering beasts, earning gold and experience. All of the characters possess certain traits which help or hinder them in their adventures. The degree of each trait is determined by rolling dice; thus each character is unique in every game. The player himself decides other aspects of the fantasy role. No player actually wins the game, but the amounts of gold and experience earned determine the levels of success. Members of the club enjoy the game because it allows them to act out their fantasies.

DECA attains goals, promotes leadership among club members

The Clark High School chapter of DECA, which stands for Distributive Education Clubs of America, belongs to a nationwide program that focuses on developing skills in the areas of advertising, marketing, distribution, merchandising, job interviews, sales, cash register procedures, and management. DECA is taught as a class by Mr. James Hoffman, and students are not only given the opportunity to further their knowledge in the areas previously mentioned, but they are also given the chance to earn credits for work experience. In order for a credit to be given to a student for a non school-related job, he must work a minimum of fifteen hours a week.

In November the members of DECA attended a Regional Leadership Conference in Salt Lake City, Utah; and in later months they participated in district, state, and national competitions.

FBLA stresses skills for business careers

Future Business Leaders of America (FBLA) is a club whose members focus their attention on becoming familiar with the business world. Throughout the year, the group invited many guests to speak to the club from various fields of interest, such as executive secretaries, models, cosmetologists, and tellers.

Taking field trips to the MGM accounting department and the Nevada gaming industry, attending the Western Regional Conference in New Orleans during November, competing in all aspects of business in March, and selling Clark-o-grams as a fund raiser were all activities that the group also undertook.

Mrs. Karen Girard advised the group while Lynette Shaw was the president.

Needy Vegas families receive canned goods from Clark food drive

TFAC, under the direction of Ms. Priscilla Adams, sponsored their second annual food drive for needy families.

A donation of 92 cans by Ms. Adams' first period class won the participation award given for the most items donated by one group. As a result of their efforts each member of the class received a McDonald's gift certificate valued at $1.50.

Although the members of the club encouraged the entire student body to participate in the food drive, the total number of items collected this year was only 235 as compared to last year's approximate 1200.

Sights of snow send skiers toward slopes

Members of the Clark High Ski Club, the largest group in the school, hit the slopes after a delayed winter. The club started with a trip to Heavenly Valley and continued with trips to Brianhead and Mammoth Mountain.

Members listed the pleasures of accelerating down the face of a steep hill, encountering moguls and experiencing the beauty of the ski areas as the reasons for enjoying the sport. Many members gained expertise in jumping and racing.

The club held many fund-raising activities throughout the year such as candy sales, car washes, and bake sales. The Ski Club also sponsored the Christmas Disco Dance.

The Drama Club began their year with members participating in a candy sale and later in the annual sale of Christmas carnations. They also worked on their Christmas Tree Lane entry which was entitled "Season's Greetings." Money earned through fund raisers went toward a trip to California in February.

Throughout the year club members aided in the production of plays by assisting in publicity, sale of tickets, lighting and make-up. Following tradition, Thespians provided entertainment for the student body with the staging of Christmas and spring scenes. The year closed with a banquet at which awards were given to outstanding thespians within the club and best actors.

The club was advised by Ms. Carrol Statom. President of the group was Paula Sylvester.

Spanish Club students hold annual luncheon, sponsor GR dance

"The purpose of Spanish Club is to get students to participate in as many Spanish related activities as possible," explained Mr. Gordon Hale, the club's advisor. With Carla Freeman as the president of this 85-member club, the members held their annual luncheon in which each student prepared a food from his own ethnic background, with special emphasis on Spanish food.

The big event of the year in which a large percentage of the club participated was the trip to California to attend the Cinco De Mayo Celebration near Magic Mountain. Major fund raisers which the club held consisted of flower sales and candy sales, along with the sponsoring of the annual Girls' Reverse Dance and the Ugly Man Contest held during Homecoming Week.

Charger football team faces tough competition in Sunset Division play

This year's varsity football team had an up-and-down season, finishing with a 4-5 record in overall play and 2-2 in conference.

Clark used a two-set offense this year, one for running and one for their passing attack. The leader on the rushing game (wishbone) was senior quarterback Tony Shaw. Carnell Smith, Mark Monaco, Steven George, Tony Dazzio, and Mike Jose rotated in the runningback positions.

The second set Clark adopted this year was used primarily for passing. Quarterbacking the Chargers' aerial assault was Larry Stevens. Shaw moved to slotback position, and Demetrius "Pepper" Lynch played wide receiver. John Clinton and David Arrendondo also traded in single receiver position. Clark's offense averaged 206 yards per game.

Defensively the Chargers finished fifth in the league against their opponents. Playing tough all year for Clark were defensive backs Don Purdue, James McLin, John McLin, and Craig Butler, as well as Shaw. Contributing on the line for the Chargers were Lonnie Strange and Rory Reid.

Besides Shaw, Rick Lawson, Mark Jacoby, and Mark Streuber contributed on offense as well as defense.

JV's gain experience: enormous bright spot for next year's varsity

The 1979 junior varsity football team had an outstanding season, finishing with an 8-1 record, good enough for a first place finish. This year's coach was Jim Massey, assisted by a new member of the Charger coaching staff Chuck Stuart.

The "Junior Chargers' " offense was led by quarterback Mike Cardarelli, and runningbacks Rob Foresta, Pat Zero, Scott Spinuzzi, and Brian Novello. The offensive line was held down by Mike Justice, Tony Cuglietta, Guy Wells, and Shannon Scheeler.

Defense was a bright spot for Clark this year with linebackers Kenny Clark and Brad Chaddick; linemen Tom Wideen, Bruce Gaitor, Keith Stockton, and Tom Storie; and defensive backs Ashley Abdo, Richard Cunningham, Rob Peccole, and Ken Daniels.

Cross country runners work long hard hours to develop endurance

The varsity cross country team had another promising season. Leading the boys' team was senior Guy Barbagallo, who placed in nearly every meet. In the junior varsity division, freshman Henry Holland took first place and Doug Purdue took second in the Chaparral meet. Others on the boys' team were Craig Jakus, Guy Bork, Neal Fleck, Jeff Pyle, Alex Tetreault, and Mike Tryon.

Leading the girls' team was junior Carolyn Canella, who took first in zone. The girls' team as a whole placed second in zone with good performances from Vicki Smith, Terry Coache, Lauri Wehrsdorfer, Tish Stoebner, and Penny Sanderson.

Head coach Bill Berthold was pleased with the individual achievements among the runners.

Boys' tennis nabs title, upholds winning record with undefeated season

The boys' tennis team, for the fourth consecutive year, won the southern zone and Nevada state tennis championships. The boys overcame a tough foe in Chaparral, the last match of the season, and then went on to defeat Reno High School for the state title and an undefeated 12-0 season.

State champion for the second straight year, senior David Pate led the Chargers with a 28-0 record. Helping him in singles were seniors John Rhodes, Robert Shearing, and Leon Sutton and in doubles seniors Mark Harrison and Chuck Johnston. Consistent play was also demonstrated by junior Cary Payne, freshman from Hyde Park Darrin Bresee, and sophomore Bobby Strimling. Coach Robert Wilcox summarized the season by saying, "All of the seniors had a good year, and it resulted in a successful season for the team. We should have won and we did."

Undefeated girl netters gain zone, state titles, take 12 straight wins

For the third time in the last four years, Clark's girls' tennis team had an undefeated season and won the zone and state championships. After unexpectedly beating last year's state champion Western, the girls encountered only one other crucial match in Chaparral, whom they beat 19½-8½. The state title was won by beating the northern zone champs Reno, 15-13.

Leading the Chargers were state champions in doubles, Ellen Frank and Teri Wilcox, finishing the season with a 32-0 record. Backing them up were junior Suzanne Rogers and a freshman from Cashman, Kathy Delaney, in doubles, and a strong contingent of singles players as seen in junior Dena Curtright, exchange student Maria Lehto, sophomore Beth Snavely, and two freshmen from Hyde Park, Lisa Schwartz and Susie Strimling. Coach Robert Wilcox's comments about the season were, "It's really nice to win the zone and state titles, but this season was much more satisfying because we weren't expected to win, and we did."

Girls' basketball team shows poise, quickness in fine season effort

The girls' basketball team had a fine seven-win six-loss season and earned a third place finish in the Sunset Division.

Although the team lacked height, Coach Theresa Conerly felt the Chargers made up for it in spirit. Another factor that led the girl cagers to victories was their ability to use their quickness.

The team's leading scorer throughout the season was Cassandra Adams with a 26-point-per-game average. Guard Susan Murray contributed eight points, while Carolyn Wilson proved strong underneath, averaging ten rebounds per-game. Sophomore Susan Evans also helped the team with six rebounds per outing.

The Lady Chargers made it to the zone playoffs, only to be defeated by the Rancho Rams.

Hard work, devotion aid in Charger wins; cagers prove strong

This year's varsity basketball team had the unique combination of youth and experience to put them on their way to a winning season. Clark played three sophomores on the varsity squad, all of whom played exceptional ball when challenged. Bruce Gaitor, Mark Dixon, and Brian Brown matured quickly and will be back the next two seasons at Clark.

Tony Shaw, Gary Flangas, and Carnell Smith were all back from last year's zone championship squad. Shaw was the main playmaker and leading scorer this year for the Chargers. Joe Porcaro, Kenny Johnson, and Clark Peterson were the remainder of the seniors on this year's team. Jeff Wilson, Randy Plentzas, Duane Kendall, as well as the sophomores will all be returning for next year's team.

"One of the main reasons we did so well is that no one expected us to," explained Coach Gary Wheeler. "We had a lot of young kids who really put out."

JV basketball team uses quickness, skill to overcome defeat

This year's junior varsity basketball team used their quickness to out-manuever and out-play their adversaries. Head Coach Doug Garner stressed patience to break down the opponent's zone and eventually score points. The junior Chargers posted key victories over Bonanza and Gorman as well as other teams around the league.

Key players for the team were Rodney Thomas, Phil Lipka, Leon McKee, and Jon Baronofsky. Johnny Kirkling, Gary Morano, Ken Daniels, Reggie Riggs, Tom Deering, Steve Justice, and George White were the remainder of the team. Kenny Clark was lost early in the season due to injury.

Youthful soccer team grows during season, builds winning streak

The varsity soccer team had a slow start this season, but developed momentum as the matches continued. Returning after one year off, Coach Gene Girard coached a young team with only six players from last year's varsity team. These were Richard Turner, Jose Wasiak, Mark Cook, Blair Brooks, James Handy, and goalie Paul Starcher.

The strong Charger defense was led by seniors Richard Turner and James Handy and by junior Greg Grassl. Tim Thompson, Mark Piorkowski, Jose Wasiak, David Eskenazy, and Bill Hanley all contributed in making the offense effective as well. Coach Gene Girard said this about the team: "We are a young team and made a few mistakes early in the season, but we continue to improve after every game, as is evident by our record in January." The team went from fifth place in December to second place in their division by the end of January.

Junior varsity kickers, hurt by inexperience, look to next season

The junior varsity soccer squad started with a very young team this year as a result of losing many players to the varsity soccer squad. Of the eleven starters, seven were freshmen, and Coach Travis Bonneville is looking forward to next year when most of the team will be returning.

Leading scorer for the past two years, sophomore James Malley, led the Charger offense with help from Sebastian Balle and Mike Decker. The defense was balanced by Brian Tabor, Kevin Kelley, and Randy Colquitt. The team played tough all season and hopes for a more consistent and successful 1980-81 season.

In spite of setbacks, varsity matmen show determination, pride

"A training year" is how wrestling coach Duane Loesch described the 1979-80 season. The Varsity team was young and relatively inexperienced, but Loesch was confident that the team would be stronger next year, as they gain experience. Next year's team will lose only three varsity lettermen.

The team suffered the loss of three varsity wrestlers who quit mid-season, and Loesch turned to his JV squad for replacements.

JV wrestlers show potential for growth, utilize strategy, moves

The 1979-80 JV squad was a team largely made up of new men. The team gained experience and mastered tactics by practicing daily and competing in matches each week. Several of the first-year men wrestled and placed in the Bonanza Newcomers' Tournament held early in the season. Coach Duane Loesch was confident that some of the men would be assets on next year's team.

Outstanding wrestlers named by the coach were junior Mike Otero at 103 and sophomores Mike Pacholke at 127 and Derek Ence at 175. Loesch felt that these men worked for improvement and wrestled consistently well.

Varsity volleyball team accents fundamentals to increase victories

Practicing six days a week, the varsity volleyball team improved steadily with Coach Bob Kelly in his first year as head coach. Having access to the gym for practices also helped the group. Throughout the season Kelly repeatedly drilled his team on fundamentals.

Playing well consistently throughout the year were Susan Evans, Dawn Thomas, Susan Murray, and Dana Gerhart. Because the team was the youngest in the league, Coach Kelly expects them to dominate in the division next year.

JV volleyball squad stresses agility, skill to build strong team

The junior varsity volleyball team, under Coach Theresa Conerly, put their main emphasis on endurance and agility drills to build a solid performance this year as well as to prepare them for varsity play. Linda Chavera, a student teacher and former Clark player, also helped with the coaching duties. The team practiced 6 days a week for 2½ hours at a time.

Leading the JV's to their victories were Shirley Lyons, Angela Smyth, and Lissa McClure. All of the girls are expected to try out for the varsity team next year.

Male bowling team crowns winning year with 12-game streak

Finishing fourth this year in division, a young boys' bowling team rode a 12-game winning streak at one time during the season. Their best game was against Chaparral with a 912, and the best game series came against Gorman when the Chargers posted 2,632. The team average was a respectable 176.

First year Coach Chuck Stuart cited Jon Partell, who led the team with a 186 average, and David Jaffe as the most consistently strong players. Since there were no seniors on the team, Coach Stuart predicted a strong showing next year.

The girls' bowling team, also coached by Mr. Chuck Stuart, encountered tough competition but finished fourth in the division. One of the youngest players, sophomore Tina Whitfield, led the team with a 157 average; unfortunately, she moved from Las Vegas before the season ended. Coach Chuck Stuart also praised the consistent performance of Crystal White. Because Roni Shaw was the only senior on the team to be lost through graduation, next year's team will benefit from experience.

Coach Chuck Stuart expressed appreciation to the management of West Hill Lanes, the host of Charger matches.

Girl gymnasts achieve goals with practice on bars, beam, mat

The gymnastics team at Clark is the only high school group in town which competes in the Nevada Women's Gymnastics Association. Western and Eldorado are the only other schools that even have coaches for gymnastics. Coach John Apperson, the coach at Clark, believes if most of the schools can start a program then the district may begin allotting money for an intramural gymnastics program including salaries for coaches.

At the state meet girls from Clark in Class III placed first in each of the three events: Sherrie Philip, vault; Jeannine Peterson, beam; Tina Varley, bars. These three girls also captured the top three slots in all-around competition.

The Class II meet was held at the end of February. Barbara Boone, Marlene Philip, and Tracy Zimmer were the only girls on the Clark team ranked as Class II. While Class III gymnasts perform only the compulsory events, Class II gymnasts must perform the compulsory events plus optional events for which they create their own routines.

Coach Apperson felt many girls drop out of gymnastics once in high school because of the many other activities available. "The girls who last more than a year are devoted and practice long hours to achieve their goals", he explained.

Strong leadership gives Class of '80 a year of success

The long-awaited goal of being "Big Seniors" was finally reached by the Class of '80. Throughout the year the seniors displayed both leadership and pride. During Homecoming the Class of '80 took first place in the hall decorating contest and in the float competition. The class sponsored the Sadie Hawkins dance in November and the Child Haven Christmas Party.

The Senior Ball, the last dance, was held on May 9 at the Flamingo Hilton. The senior trip, high point for everyone, included Grad Nite at Disneyland, a beach party, and Magic Mountain.

Graduation was the climax of high school years for the Class of '80. The theme for graduation was "We Will Never Pass This Way Again." The colors were black and gold and the class flower was the yellow rose.

Fashion: On our feet we wore Earth Shoes, running shoes, platforms, hiking boots, and exercise clogs. We adorned ourselves with liquid silver, turquoise, charm holders, gold charms and chains, puka shells, ankle and belly bracelets, digital watches, hair combs, headbands, suspenders, corn rows and braids, multiply pierced ears, permanent waves, and hats of all types. Men's fashions featured leisure suits, wide ties, skinny ties and vested suits. Unisex clothing included down-filled jackets, warm-up suits, T-shirts, painter's pants, overalls, plaid shirts, jump suits, blazers, and clutch purses. Women's closets saw mini-skirts, maxi-skirts, hot pants, see-through blouses, caftans, pant suits, string bikinis, cowl neck sweaters, gauchos, and transparent jackets. Designer fashions, ranging from blue jeans to eyeglasses, were popular; we gladly paid to wear labels on the outside. A couple of "looks" acquired in the '70's were the disco look and the Annie Hall look. New fabrics like polyester and Ultrasuede altered fashion concepts. Chenille, silk, and cotton made a giant comeback.

Fads: We played backgammon, rummy que, Monopoly, and "Pong" the first electronic game. The fitness craze sent us to health clubs and spas, and pleasure seekers discovered hot tubs. The energy crisis brought new forms of transportation: we rode mopeds, roller skated, skateboarded, jogged, and rode bikes, to our destinations. We wore mood rings, assorted buttons, POW and MIA bracelets, and peace symbols. Smiley faces adorned everything. We played with Slime, Hula-Hoops, and click-clacks. We watched T.V. on giant screens, taped movies on our video recorders, listened to music from our portable stereos, and became "good buddies" with all the other C.B.'ers. We took up racquetball, backpacking, roller disco, and frisbee as means of excercise. Some daredevils hang-glided and streaked. We collected pet rocks and key chains. We attended toga parties. Elaborately painted vans featured all the comforts and luxuries of home. And always there were words: groovy, bummer, foxy, macho, peace, dy-no-mite, really, and AAAY! Other popular phrases were "What's happening?", "Up your nose with a rubber hose!", and "Sit on it!"

Behavior: To some the '70's were called the "Me Decade" as we looked out for "Numero Uno." In a quest for self-identity, we encountered transcendental meditation, est, and born-again Christianity. "Living together" replaced "living in sin," gay rights became a cause for some, and equality of the sexes became a battle cry. Every segment of society made its wants known. A separate drug culture came of age and sexual taboos burst out of the brown wrapper. In the "Me Decade" many "me's" were eager to be defined: "Be a Calvin Klein man." Books dealing with self-improvement became number one sellers and "Have a nice day" became the most widely used greeting of the '70's. Many of us felt selfishness without guilt, a sort of smugness that says, "You can haul up the ladder. I'm on board." The divorce rate doubled between 1970 and 1978; but as the decade ended, family was making a comeback.

Entertainment: Through films, television, and books, the '70's brought thrills, chills, and thoughtfulness. We witnessed catastrophe: Poseidon Adventure, Earthquake, Towering Inferno, Airport. We experienced horror: Jaws, The Exorcist, The Omen, The Shining, When A Stranger Calls, Amityville Horror. Then there were the tearjerkers: Mahogany, The Promise, The Other Side of the Mountain, The Champ, Brian's Song. We contemplated our lives with Jonathan Livingston Seagull, Future Shock, Love Story. Some films re-created human drama: Midnight Express, Roots, Deer Hunter, The Godfather. And we laughed with American Graffiti, Animal House, Mork and Mindy, Love American Style, Happy Days, Brady Bunch. And finally we went beyond: Star Wars, 2001: A Space Odyssey, Star Trek, Lost in Space.

Food: We exchanged junk foods for natural foods such as granola, wheat germ, honey, alfalfa sprouts and carob. We ate raw nuts and dried fruits for snacks. Instead of taking a daily vitamin we took kelp and alfalfa pills, mega-vitamins, and liquid protein. We also had low cholesterol and suger-free foods. We drank herb teas, Perrier water with a lime wedge, white wine, and Tiger's Milk. Since we were always on the go, we ate fast foods, T.V. dinners, and instant foods. Microwave ovens and food processors cut preparation time and technological advances gave us freeze-dried food and space sticks. But not everyone had healthful habits. Many of us stuffed ourselves with Doritos, M&M's, ice cream sandwiches, hot dogs, soft drinks, Big Macs, french fries, pizza, Big Sticks, Hot Tamales, Ding-Dongs, and Slurpees. In 1976, red dye #2 was banned from our foods, and it was determined that saccharin may cause cancer.

Music: The music scene saw many groups come and go but some of the more popular groups were Chicago, Bee Gees, Led Zeppelin, Osmonds, Earth Wind and Fire, Styx, ELO, Rolling Stones, and the Jackson 5. The early seventies saw the rise of the singer-songwriter, and vocalists like Elton John, Barry Manilow, Linda Ronstadt, Stevie Wonder, Neil Sedaka, Jim Croce, Peter Frampton, and Olivia Newton-John were all popular. Some of the music trends were pop rock, '50's rock-n-roll, disco, country-western, contemporary music, punk rock, and New Wave. Of course with each year there was always a #1 song. A few of the hit songs were "Bridge Over Troubled Waters," "First Time Ever I Saw Your Face," "American Pie," "Joy to the World," "How Deep is Your Love," and "My Sharona." The music world suffered a loss when Elvis Presley, one of the greatest legends of all time, died in the summer of 1977.

Experiences stored away,
we close the toy chest.
Some experiences were sweet;
others were bitter,
but all helped us to grow

Tomorrow the toy chest will be just a memory because new adventures, new challenges and new toys await us all as children of the world

ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

The following people, although not members of the staff, helped throughout the year with various details of the book — Administrators, especially Mr. Collis, for their advice and guidance.

— The faculty for granting interviews and preparing information for use in copy blocks.
— Mrs. Mackie for keeping track of the finances.
— Albert and James for the special pictures and extra efforts.
— Bob Stephenson, our representative from Taylor Publishing Company for bridging the gap.
— Our young models on the divider pages: Clinton Baird, Karen Browne and Lutisha Vereen.
— The Petarde family for the use of their toy chest.
— Mrs. Dunkle for letting us use her classroom.
— The advertisers for financially supporting the book.
— Valerie Talley for reading pages and providing laughter when it wasn't her job.
— My mother and father for understanding me and my demands.
— My friends for making it worthwhile.
— The students of Clark for creating the events.

Thank you.

Karen

Saved for Kristabelle

Barbra Lavy—

well this year has been tremendous hasn't it! I know you can guess why but I'm going to let you hear it anyway.

At the beginning you kept to yourself and me and Roxanne to ours. But Sadie Hawkins changed all that. Keith still thinks im a pig but maybe sometime I can change that!. han a perverted nan too.

I think this summer will prove great for you and "Jim". Your expected to call and take me w/ ya to the pool or!?

Your right, someone (you) was lying when you talked to Denise. But the party was an unusual one & maybe not a complete waste. (at least the food was good)

I'll never forget all the talks of Keith + James.. I just wonder what all the looks he passed over meant! (I KNOW IT WASNT WHAT I WAS HOPING FOR) He still has the sexiest lookin CHS. (SOPHMORE SECTION AT LEAST)

Now about all the trips to the lake we never took!? (they were fun!)

Hafin's was my funniest class! I loved it.

This summer has already started getting pretty good and were still in school so may the good get better!!

We'll have to cruise a certain streets in search of a certain people!!

don't forget: 876-9658

THANKS FOR THE MEMORIES!
LOVE,
Kristabelle

Barb
I'm glad we got to work together. I don't know what I would've done if you didn't help me well get your worksheets together next year
Maybe we'll get some classes
Kat

barbara
HEY!
what are you doing dud! it was fun in U.S. History! Have a great Summer & Don't drown or anything
Love
Laura

HEY BARB,
WE HAVENT KNOWN EACH OTHER LONG BUT YOUR A SWEET GIRL. I REALLY APPRECIATE YOU LETTING ME COPY ALL OF THOSE MATH ASSIGNMENTS, LORD ONLY KNOWS I WOULD HAVE FLUNKED CAUSE IM SO LAZY. ITS BEEN NICE KNOWING YOU. HAVE A GOOD SUMMER
LOVE
Theresa Chicco

SEE YA ROUND

NOT PERFECT

Barbara,
I am glad I got to know you & help you out on your report—
You're a great girl & very gullible (I don't know how to spell that)
My name's Bob
And her name's Sue
We're the best in the class
Cause we're the class of 1983
Have a great summer

Barbara,
I guess I'am pretty priveledged to sign your yearbook just b/c you're your a very sweet person and I'm glad that this year we have become pretty good friends. It's been fun having you in Psychology and U.S. History. Next year lets have some more classes together. Have a great summer and take care. Call me sometime 878-7621

Love ya
Jay
Romeo

Barbra,
It's been great having you in U.S. History. I hope you have a great summer + I hope you get Brian. Hope to see you next year. Your really a sweet person, and I hope you stay that way.

Love,
Cheri
Kingston

Mark Jones

Barbara, hope you have a super good time this summer. Stay nice and pure
Love ya Dear
Jay

Barbara,
It's been rather cashmere having you in biology, too bad you don't work enough for me to copy from you. See you next year. Be cool, love ya dearly

Barbara,
History was a blast, even though you didn't help Kelly at any of our study at Lisa's, you didn't even tease her about her pretty hair do. Keep in touch this summer, call if you know where there are any parties

Barbara,

WELL I'm SURE glad to KNOW YOU - (AND YOUR BEST FRIEND LISA!)
WISH I couldá sat up by you, HA! HA!
IN HISTORY. BUT HEY! YOUR MY
PAL. AND WE SHOULD GET A CLASS
TOGETHER NEXT YEAR. BUT WITH MY INTELLIGENCE AND YOUR STUPIDITY
IT JUST WON'T HAPPEN. HEY, I'M JOSHIN YA! TAKE CARE KIDDO!

LOVE YA
KELLY
CLINTON.
(COOL)

Barbara,
I'm glad I had you in English, Biology, Psychology
+ U.S. History. you are a very nice person and we became friends very special. I'm glad through the years. But next year lets have some classes together again..
Have fun in the summer+
good luck!
